MY DEAR MADAME MARIE:Words cannot express how gra MY DEAR MADAME MARIE:

Words cannot express how grateful I am to you for the wonderful things you have done for me, and I want others to know who need similar help. Seven months ago I was in an automobile accident, when my face went through the glass of the windshield and cut open my whole face. My face was acarred horribly and I believed that I would remain ugly for the rest of my life. A friend induced me to go to you for treatment, and now my face is as before the accident. A have a picture of my sears, and am willing the interviewed by any one interested. Person in case of absence. I will refer any one to the hospital where I was taken in my awful condition after the accident.

WHERE FASHION WALKS IN WHITE THE prophesy of white

for Southern wear has been confirmed by its fulfillment, for the smartest of women at the sunshine resorts are attired in white from tip to toe. And so Franklin Simon & Co. exhibit white footwear on tiptoe in-smartness. There are Oxfords and pumps of buckskin, canvas, or kidskin in every correct shape and style, from the sports Oxford with rubber sole to the slipper that reveals its French inspiration in the shortness of its vamp.

WHY?

By DR. BERTHOLD A. BAER.

The day after Mr. Frank E. Campbell announced that he would publish my essays in book-form, profusely illustrated with pictures of the objects of art in the Funeral Church building, and would reserve a copy for those who ask for it, the mail brought more than five hundred requests. Mr. Campbell looked over the letters.

"Why," he asked, "do hundreds of people, bankers and business men, lawyers and laymen, men and women of all walks of life, ask for a book dealing with death? Because Mr. Campbell has touched upon a subject an appealing way. The individual who can express unexpected thoughts can bring out of you the latent thought you never expected. If you applaud an orator you merely greet your near and dear to every one, but never before handled in thought expressed by him. If you like a book, it is because you find therein your thought expressed by the author. If you like my essays, it is because I dare say what you feel, yet never found the courage to discuss. Beauty, beauty of every kind, is the expression of peace and solace.

Mr. Campbell has shown to hundreds of thousands that there is beauty in death as well as in life. I write about the beauty of death so you may enjoy
